Boston Legacy FC Selects Levy as Food and Beverage Partner for White Stadium

BOSTON (October 1, 2026) — Boston Legacy FC today announced Levy as the club's official food and beverage partner for White Stadium, bringing the company's renowned hospitality expertise and commitment to local culinary talent to the club's future home in Boston.

Together, Boston Legacy FC and Levy will create a food and beverage experience that reflects the character of Boston and gives fans the opportunity to experience the city's diverse and celebrated food culture throughout the stadium. The partnership will spotlight local restaurants and chefs alongside signature menu offerings crafted just for White Stadium based on fan feedback, creating a cohesive culinary experience influenced directly by Legacy fans.

Levy is a leader in sports and entertainment hospitality, creating food and beverage experiences at the country's most iconic and innovative venues. That includes a market-leading network of venues across all levels of American soccer, from innovative new NWSL stadiums like CPKC Stadium to state-of-the-art MLS and USL venues and the recently-opened Arthur M. Blank US Soccer National Training Center. In the region, Levy serves fans at Centreville Bank Stadium in Pawtucket and at Boston's Hynes Convention Center and Thomas M. Menino Convention & Exhibition Center, among other venues.

At White Stadium, fans will have a variety of ways to enjoy food and beverage throughout matchday, with flexible options designed around how they want to experience the stadium. Across the concourse, all fans will have access to markets equipped with self-service technology for added speed and convenience, as well as traditional concession stands, mobile carts and bars with a deep selection of Boston restaurants, White Stadium signature offerings and elevated stadium favorites. In premium clubs and suites, fans can expect top-tier hospitality and chef tables with rotating menus highlighting New England specialties. Additional details about White Stadium's food and beverage offerings will be announced closer to opening.

"We're thrilled to partner with Levy to create a food and beverage experience that gives Legacy fans another reason to love coming to White Stadium," said Jennifer van Dijk, Team President of Boston Legacy FC. "Finding a partner that shares our commitment to innovation and understands what makes Boston special was incredibly important to us. Levy brings tremendous expertise, and together we have an opportunity to create something truly memorable—one that reflects the energy of our fans and celebrates the people, and neighborhoods that make up Boston."

"At a time when the sport is building significant momentum across the country, the Legacy are bringing a new energy and vision for the next chapter of soccer to Boston, a city that so passionately rallies around its teams," said Andy Lansing, CEO of Levy. "It's been absolutely remarkable seeing that connection take hold with fans throughout the club's inaugural season and we're excited to carry that momentum into White Stadium by creating a food and beverage experience that captures the spirit of Boston."

White Stadium will become Boston Legacy FC's permanent home beginning with the 2028 National Women's Soccer League season. The renovated stadium will feature 10,500 permanent seats, a natural grass playing surface and modern amenities designed to create a best-in-class experience for players and fans.

Fans can learn more about White Stadium and sign up for future ticketing information, including opportunities to secure seats for the club's new home, online at <https://bostonlegacyfc.com/pages/two-seasons-one-legacy>.
